INTRODUCTION

AAEM GAMES is a unique emergency medicine residency competition, combining the knowledge and skills from academic emergency medicine and the competitive spirit of gaming into one mega event.

AAEM GAMES 2027 is entering its second year after a successful AAEM games competition at AAEM '26. This multi-modal competition which will occur during the 33rd AAEM Scientific Assembly in San Antonio, Texas.

The competition rules and regulations have been developed by the AAEM GAMES Planning Committee. All participants are expected to abide by the rules. Failure to comply will result in expulsion from the competition without exception.

CORE VALUES & CODE OF CONDUCT

The core values of AAEM GAMES include fairness, transparency, innovation, and academic excellence. Anyone affiliated with AAEM GAMES in any capacity is expected to uphold these values and adhere to the code of conduct and etiquette as defined by AAEM.

- AAEM GAMES moderators will be responsible for ensuring adherence to core values and conduct.
- All attempts should be made to resolve disputes fairly and amicably, involving the named moderators for the competition segment.
- Any complaints or grievances should be reported to the moderator of the competition segment at the end of the session, avoiding disruption of the competition.
- Moderators may choose to involve impartial judges from alternative competition segments in case of ongoing disputes. Decisions by judges will be final.
- Audio-visual recording in any format of any part of the competition by anyone (apart from sanctioned conference AV team) is prohibited.

Do's	Don'ts
Wait your turn.	Don't interrupt your competition.
Speak clearly and audibly.	Mumble or speak quietly.
Compete fairly.	Attempt cheating (grounds for immediate disqualification).
Adhere to team composition rules.	Change of team on competition day.

COMPETITION DETAILS

SHARED RULES

- Participants and Faculty must always adhere to core values and code of conduct.
- All sessions may be recorded by the sanctioned AV team only. Any other recordings are prohibited.
- Teams must be present at the designated venue on time.
- Teams must be contactable and must respond to the AAEM GAMES Committee in a timely manner.
- Judges will be allocated to segments impartially. This means that a judge will not be allocated to a segment where a team from their institution is participating.

SCREENING ROUND

- All teams must participate in the screening round.
- The screening round is a points-based system.

Round Format:

- A 40-question single-best answer MCQ test to solve in 10 minutes.
- Each team will take this test as a group.
- We do not realistically expect anyone to finish all 40 questions.
- Each correct answer will be worth one point.
- Automatic points (see below) will be added to the score for ranking.

Automatic Points:

- A maximum of one point will be awarded to each team member, including the team mentor, who has presented their work on the podium during the conference.
- A maximum of four points may be awarded per team.
- These points will be counted while ranking.
- Team members are therefore encouraged to participate in presenting at the conference.

Ranking:

- Teams ranking 1st to 8th will enter the SONOSIM Championship.
- Teams ranking 9th to 12th will enter the EM-iQ National EM Quiz Competition.

Tiebreaker:

- In the event of a tiebreaker, the tied teams will be given a further test of 10 MCQs in two minutes.

SONOSIM CHAMPIONSHIP

- Competing teams are reminded that they will be recorded by the sanctioned AV teams.
- For teams who are participating head-to-head during the championship:
 - Participating team will be 'on the stage'.
 - Competing team will be blinded to their attempt.
 - Then the two teams will swap.

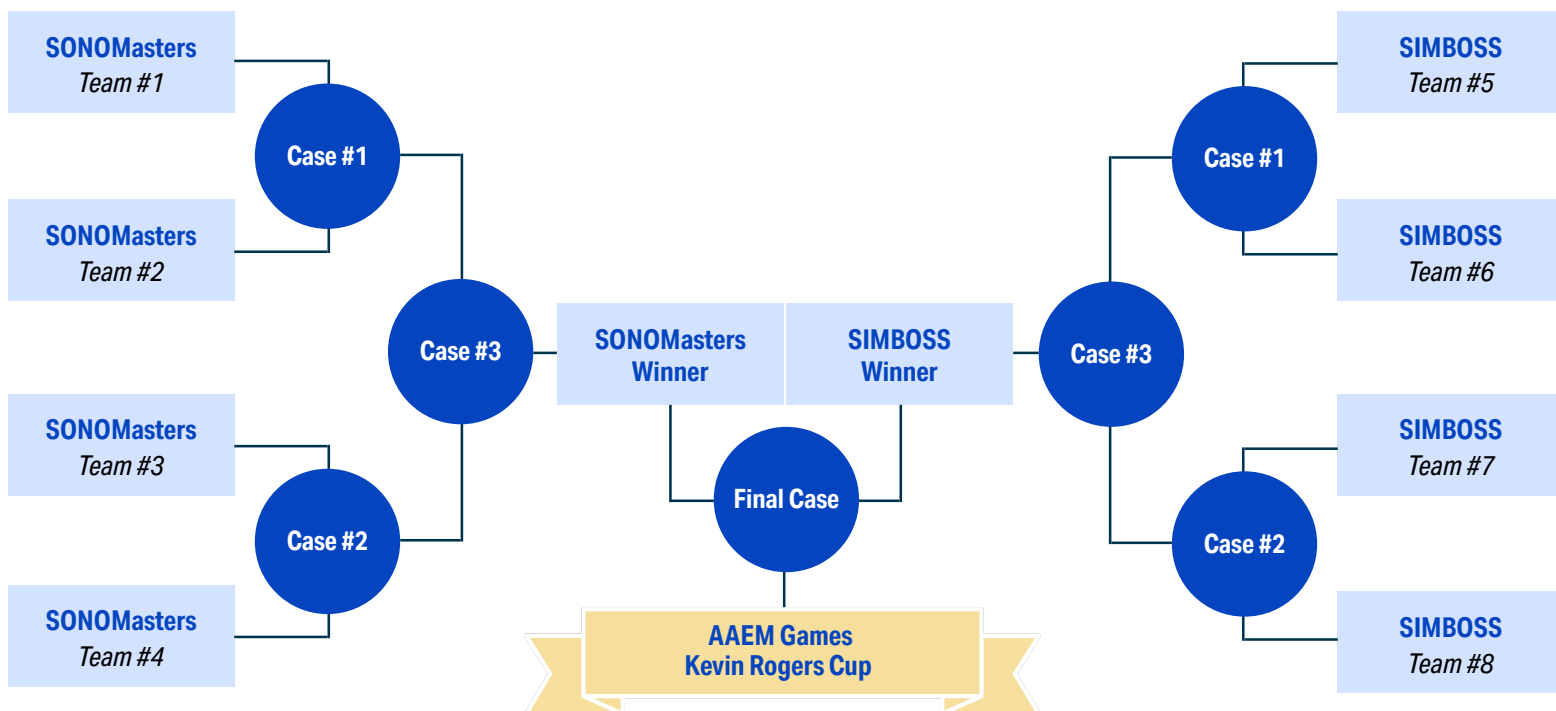

Random Allocation:

- Four teams will compete in SONOMasters.
- Four teams will compete in SIMBOSS.
- Winning team of each elimination round will compete in the SONOSIM final.

Pre-Game Prep:

- All teams will be given the opportunity to familiarize themselves with the equipment on the day preceding the AAEM GAMES day.
